Stocks Resume Climb

After rebounding to start the week, stocks weakened following higher inflation numbers out of Europe and higher-than-expected manufacturing activity.

Stocks continued their decline into early Thursday following a report of higher labor costs and low initial jobless claims. But stocks staged an afternoon relief rally on Thursday following comments by Atlanta Fed President Raphael Bostic that he was "still very firmly" supportive of increasing rates in quarter-point increments. The climb in stocks was remarkable, given that yields on 10-year Treasuries reached their highest level since November. Undeterred by a strong services data report, the upside momentum continued into the final trading day and added to the week's gains.<sup>4</sup>

Disconcerting Economic Data

It was a relatively quiet week for economic news, but several new economic data reports gave insights into overall activity. U.S. manufacturing activity contracted in February—the fourth consecutive month it has done so. While this may eventually justify a reason for moderating future rate hikes, the activity exceeded analysts' expectations. An accompanying survey of manufacturers pointed to improving demand and potentially accelerating price pressures.

Meanwhile, China reported an outsized jump in manufacturing activity, which may help relieve remaining supply chain kinks. But the report may also fuel commodity price increases and influence global inflation. Inflation remained a persistent issue in Europe, as February's Eurozone inflation read was hotter than anticipated.

TAX TIP

Outstanding Tax Bill? Consider an Offer in Compromise

An Offer in Compromise is a federal tax program allowing taxpayers to enter into an agreement with the IRS to settle their tax debt for less than they owe. This agreement is an option when taxpayers can't pay their full tax liabilities or when paying the entire balance owed would cause financial hardship. The goal is a compromise that suits the best interests of both parties.

The IRS considers various circumstances when reviewing OIC applications, including the applicant's:

- Income
- Expenses
- Asset equity

There is also an application to apply for an OIC. Taxpayers who meet the definition of a low-income taxpayer don't have to pay this fee.

HEALTHY LIVING TIP

It's All in a Walk: 3 Tips for Integrating Walking Into Your Day

Getting more movement is always a good idea, but finding the time to fit a walk into your day can be hard. These tips will make it easier to get up and get moving:

- Keep a pair of sneakers in your car to walk whenever you have a few extra minutes! This could be during your lunch break at work, if you're early for a doctor's appointment, or while you're waiting to pick up the kids from school.
- Walk when you might otherwise sit. We're always waiting for something, so walk around instead of sitting while you wait! It's okay if you can't go far; at least you're getting your steps in.
- Have multiple routes, so you don't get bored walking the same route every day.
- Invite friends for a walk instead of getting coffee or lunch.

WEEKLY RIDDLE

We know that a seahorse isn't a horse, and we know that a silverfish isn't a fish. For that matter, a snakehead isn't a snake – but what is it?

Last week's riddle: About 90% of this country's land area is made up of arid tan desert, yet its flag was once solid green (until 2011) – in fact, at one time it was the only nation in the world with a flag containing just one color. What nation is this? Answer: Libya.
